Signing the registration form implies that you accept the License conditions for the data access, given in the third page of this document. Please also note the following conditions and procedures for accessing and using the data:

- We provide data access only to faculty members and researchers in equivalent positions. In particular, PhD students should ask their supervisors to request the access for them.
- If you use the data as a basis for scientific publications, in addition to referring to the related scientific publications of ours, we request you to send us bibliographic references to published papers, completed theses, and similar documents. The instructions how to do this will be in the email containing the access details to the measurement archive.
- We also encourage you to send us a logo of the research group, university, or company research lab in which the data is used, together with a web-link you would like the logo to be linked to. These will be collected to a dedicated web page, also providing publicity to your work done with the data.
